Career Milestone | Career 101

PURPOSE: Your wins — big and small — are proof of your abilities. Every win happened because you used a skill.

This Career Milestone helps you recognize the wins you're proud of, understand why they mattered, and identify the skills that made them possible. Because later, these same wins will turn into resume bullets and interview stories.

CAREER WORKSHOP: This Career Milestone pairs with Career Workshop #1: Career 101: Build Your Foundation. Check your HQ Calendar to RSVP if you haven't been yet. If you missed it, you can find a recording and materials in the Career Workshop Catalogue.

HOW IT WORKS: Follow the prompts in the Steps below to find your why. Type your answers in the yellow boxes.

— STEP 1: Transfer Your Skills from Career Workshop #1

You already did this work in Career 101 — now bring it here. From your Career 101 workfile, transfer at least 2 hard skills + 2 soft skills into the table below.

Haven't been to Career 101 yet? Head to the Career Workshop Catalogue to watch the recording and complete the workfile first — then come back.

2 Hard Skills: 3D Modeling, Adobe Suite
2 Soft Skills: Planning & Scheduling, Brainstorming

— STEP 2: Understand Everyday Wins vs Big Wins

Everyday Wins: Small successes that help you stay on track or handle responsibilities.

🧠 These moments often feel normal or routine — but they still show important skills.

Examples:

- Showing up to work or class on time all week
- Covered a coworker's shift when they called out sick
- Reminded my group about a deadline so we didn't fall behind

Big Wins: Accomplishments that took more time, preparation, or persistence.

🧠 These moments usually required sustained effort, problem-solving, or pushing through a challenge.

Examples:

- Presented my project in front of my class (never done that before)
- Took over responsibilities after a team member quit
- Planned and ran an event or fundraiser

— STEP 3: Identify an Everyday Win

Think of one everyday win you're proud of. Choose something real — not something impressive.

🧠 The goal is to notice moments where you handled responsibility, stayed consistent, or followed through.
