Target Customer

- Mary the Mom
- Nöz can help by providing a product that is friendly to nature and loved by kids. Nöz product is efficient and easy to use with no dangerous ingredients.

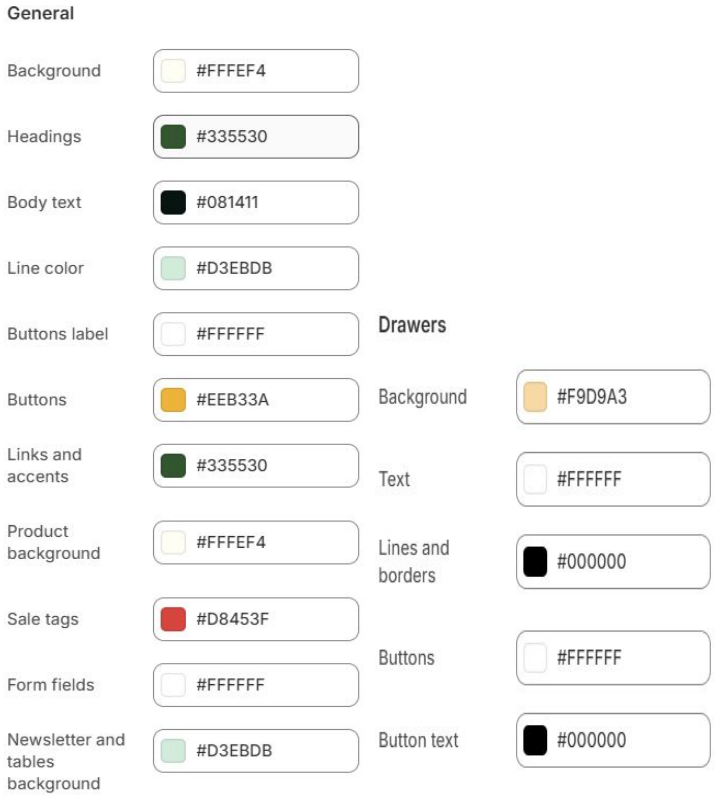

Value Proposition

Noz offers products that are made with natural ingredients in environmentally friendly packaging. Products that will give you and your family the confidence you need to go outside and explore, no compromises needed!

NÖZ

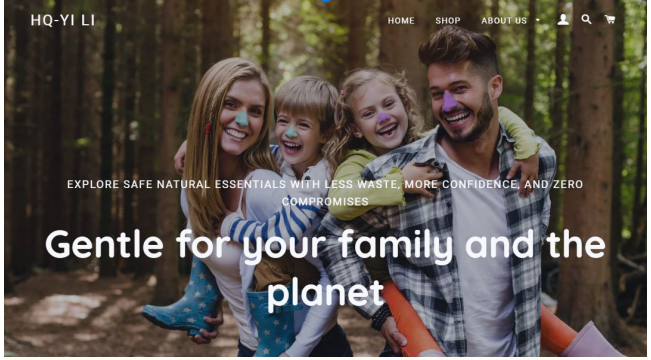

Brand Visuals - Color Palette

I went with light for the background to make the site warm and inviting. And I went with green and light green to chase that nature color because Mary is very fixated on being environmentally friendly and so I thought green and light green would be the perfect colors to portray that. For buttons, I chose yellow because it contrasts the green and due to its intensity, it stands out and calls for action with an optimistic feel.

Value Proposition

I chose to place my value proposition where they are because they’re in positions where it’s easy to access, readable, and the message is clear.

About us

"Lead with your nose." is what our mom used to tell us and it always had us thinking. At the center of our face: capturing memories with smell, a symbol of our intuition, and a natural tool we use to guide ourselves in the world. And since it sticks out the most, shouldn't we offer it the protection it needs to keep doing what we do with it?

Brand Visuals - Photography

- I chose this image because I felt it would speak to my customer persona because of the family feature and the kids smiling with the parents. The forest background would also add to the idea of being a nature person, very fitting for the specific customers; giving off the fun and adventurous vibe the brand promotes.

SEO - Keyword research

- Selected Keywords
  - [biodegradable sunscreen]
  - [dermatologist recommended sunscreen]
  - [eco friendly sunscreen]
  - [reef safe sunscreen]
  - [zinc oxide sunscreen
- I chose these words because they balance high commercial intent with strong search volume with reasonable keyword difficulty. These words help my customer persona align her values with the product she's looking for.

New About Page

About Us

At Nöz, we believe protecting your family and protecting the planet should go hand in hand. We created our sunscreen for people who want products that are both safe, effective, and environmentally responsible. Our reef-safe, vegan, and cruelty-free formulas help make everyday adventures a little more sustainable. Whether you're spending the day at the beach, the playground, or on a family hike, we've got your nose covered. We make sun protection simple so you can focus on making memories in the sunshine.

Nöz started with a saying from our mom we heard growing up: "Lead with your nose." While we never completely figured out what it meant, it inspired us to celebrate one of the most overlooked features on our faces. Your nose is often the first thing to catch the sun, so we thought it deserved some extra attention. That's why we created colorful sunscreen sticks designed specifically for your proudest feature. By combining serious protection with a playful spirit, we make sunscreen something people actually want to wear.

What makes Nöz different is our belief that sustainable products should be fun, not boring. We pair conscious ingredients with bright colors and a bold personality to create sun care that stands out. Our products are designed to fit seamlessly into busy lives without adding extra stress or complicated routines. We want making environmentally friendly choices to feel easy, accessible, and enjoyable for everyone. Be bold, be conscious, and wear Nöz.

About the Product

Nöz Sunscreen is sun protection with personality. Our reef-safe, vegan, and cruelty-free sunscreen stick is designed to shield your skin from harmful UV rays while making outdoor adventures a little more colorful. The easy-to-apply formula glides on smoothly, making reapplication quick whether you're at the beach, on the trail, or chasing kids around the backyard. Packaged in bold, vibrant colors inspired by sunny days, Nöz turns an everyday essential into something fun to use and easy to love. Because protecting your skin and the planet should feel just as good as a day spent in the sunshine.

Executive Summary

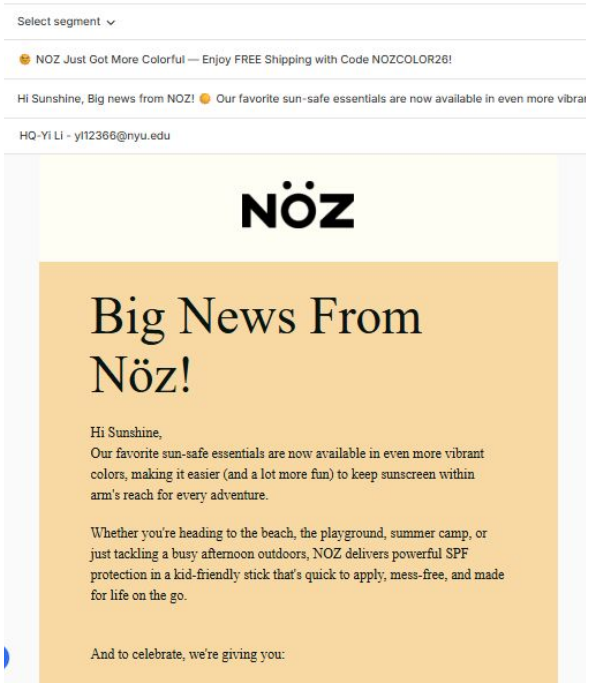

- Purpose: The Noz project was designed to learn marketing to certain demographics of customers with compelling visuals and brand voice whilst providing a eCommerce experience. My goal was to put the brand in a position where it appeals to a select customer persona.
- Key Learnings
  - Target Customer Persona:
    I designed the website with intentions of appealing to the customer persona using brand colors, typography and attributes. Build something that fits the value of the customer persona, visually and commercially.
  - Value Proposition:
    Understanding how value proposition works and implementing them in correlation with with the customer persona with the use of the empathy map I also created.
  - Brand Messaging & Visual Identity:
    I ensured that the brand's voice and visual identity were consistently represented throughout the website. From the homepage to the product pages, Noz's optimism, fun, adventurous, nerdy attributes are presented throughout the site through color and typography.
  - Key Marketing Assets:
    With tools like SEMrush and Google Trends, I used SEO through keyword optimization, engaging copy, high-quality imagery, customer reviews, trust badges, and compelling email campaigns. These assets were designed to drive traffic, enhance credibility, and convert visitors into loyal customers.
  - Landing Page Optimization & A/B Testing:
    I focused on optimizing key landing pages using A/B testing strategies. I tested 2 different versions of the homepage to evaluate which designs, copy, and CTA performed best.
